

DETAIL Inspiration

Online Database for Architects and Structural Engineers

The image and reference full-text database DETAIL Inspiration contains more than 4,000 international project documentations of building projects from over 30 years of DETAIL. Professional search functions and filter options according to main keywords, such as building type, material, year of construction or DETAIL issue topic, enable users to search for examples of creative building solutions in a targeted, fast and problem-oriented manner. The project descriptions with reference photos, drawings and technical information are available for download.

True-to-scale construction plans facilitate the adoption and application of existing building solutions to one's own designs. DETAIL Inspiration is thus an important source of research and inspiration for architectural design work in the context of architectural teaching.
